NOTE ON THE DATA

1. By its decision 81/34 of 27 June 1981, the Governing Council requested the Administrator to continue to provide data on the magnitude and composition of technical cooperation activities (not total activities) funded by organizations of the United Nations system. For the purposes of the present report, technical cooperation activities include the expenditures from the participating and executing agencies, including IAEA; the World Bank and IDA; UNDP; UNFPA; UNICEF; and WFP.

2. The raw data submitted by these agencies/organizations for 1997 have been checked for consistency and accuracy, classified, aggregated and are presented in tables 1 to 11 of the statistical annex to the present report. The tables are arranged in a specific order: tables 1 through 8 are concerned with technical cooperation expenditures while tables 9, 10 and 11 record contributions. The other tables (12 through 21) contain historical data on contributions and expenditures since 1980.

3. In more detail, table 1 presents a summary of grant technical cooperation expenditures by agencies of the entire United Nations system while table 2 shows the same data but distributed by sectors. Table 3, an extremely aggregative table, brings together total United Nations system technical cooperation expenditures according to category of expenditure. Several features of this table are worth observing. First, for each agency, expenditures are distributed according to type of expenditure: regular budget (A); United Nations system extrabudgetary sources other than UNDP (B1); non-United Nations system multilateral sources (B2); bilateral sources channelled through the United Nations system (C1); and unilateral "self-supporting" sources (C2). Second, expenditures by UNFPA, all classified as B1 expenditures, are distributed according to executing agency. This means that reported B1 expenditures of agencies are augmented by the amount of UNFPA expenditures for which these agencies have been responsible (as reported by UNFPA). The result of this "agency-allocation" procedure is that UNFPA itself is responsible for the execution of only a small fraction of its own expenditure. For example, in 1997, UNFPA reported total expenditures of $214.4 million but directly implemented only $104.3 million; the rest of the expenditures funded projects that were implemented by executing agencies. Third, all expenditures by UNDP (central resources and administered funds), UNICEF, the World Bank and IDA, and WFP are classified as B1. Finally, this table also shows the sectoral distributions of technical cooperation expenditures for the United Nations system.

4. Tables 4 through 7 provide more detailed information on the sources of table 3. More specifically, table 4 breaks down regular budget expenditures (A) by country and agency. The grand total of this table is the same as that shown in the total column of line A at the end of table 3. Table 5 contains the distribution of all non-United Nations system multilateral sources (B2) expenditures by country and agencies. The total in this table agrees with that shown in the total column of line B2 at the end of table 3. Table 7 is concerned with expenditures funded from non-United Nations system multilateral sources (B1), also classified by country and agency. Again, the total of this table equals that shown in the total column of line B2 at the end of table 3. The country-agency breakdown of bilateral resources channelled to the United Nations executing and specialized agencies (C1) is given in table 6; the total of this table is the same as that in the total column, line C1, at the end of table 3. Finally, the country-agency distribution of unilateral expenditure (C2) routed to executing and specialized agencies and back to the contributing countries is shown by the "self-supporting expenditures" column of table 8; the total of this column agrees with that in line C2 of table 3.

5. Table 9 contains data on extrabudgetary contributions made to the executing and specialized agencies, organized under the following headings: unilateral and bilateral sources (country or territory and NGOs) and multilateral sources (United Nations system and non-United Nations system). Contributions received by executing and specialized agencies to fund "self-supporting" technical cooperation expenditures are presented in table 10, while contributions made to WFP and UNICEF are given in table 11. Tables 12 to 16 contain summary data on expenditures and contributions for UNDP, UNFPA, UNICEF and WFP. Table 17 contains historical data on technical cooperation expenditures from the various entities, while table 18 shows the growth rates of these expenditures. Finally, tables 19 to 21 give historical data on contributions and their rates of growth.

6. The following caveats about the data in this document should be borne in mind:

(a) Data on expenditure (and contributions) are not grand totals (comprising both technical and non-technical) for the entire United Nations system since expenditures on activities relating to refugees, humanitarian and special economic assistance, peace-keeping operations and disaster relief are excluded. The report covers only technical cooperation expenditures and is thus limited to executing agencies, IAEA, UNDP, UNFPA, UNICEF, WFP and the World Bank/IDA. A complete account of expenditures (and contributions) by the United Nations system can be found in the annual report of the Secretary-General on development activities;

(b) The second point concerns the data from WHO, which operates on a biennial budget, with the current biennium running from 1996 to 1997. The 1996 submission from WHO represents an estimate of expenditure for the first year of the biennium, which, based on experience, is on the low side. Two important consequences follow. First, total non-UNDP financed technical cooperation expenditures (NFTCE) are considerably underestimated for the year that corresponds to the first year of the WHO biennium. In practical terms, it usually means that NFTCE shows a relatively large variation from year to year – in this case, between 1996 and 1997. This anomaly, arising largely from the preliminary nature of the data, is corrected in the final year of the biennium, when WHO submits corrected expenditures for the entire two years. The working arrangement for adjustment is to apportion the total expenditure of WHO equally over both years of the biennium. UNICEF also operates on a biennial budget but its expenditures are reported on an annual basis;

(c) All expenditure data for the executing agencies, including those of IAEA and the World Bank/IDA, refer to technical cooperation expenditure net of administrative and support costs since administrative and support costs and other costs are excluded. The only exception is WHO since its technical cooperation expenditure data are inclusive of support, but not, administrative costs;

(d) Data on contributions refer to actual contributions made by the contributing party. In practical terms, this means that contributions are not the same as income since the latter includes, in addition, items such as interest, miscellaneous income and currency adjustment;

(e) Finally, owing to unforeseen difficulties, WMO was not in a position to provide data for the present report. During 1995-1996, WMO expenditures and contributions averaged $12.8 million and $12.3 million, respectively.

A GUIDE TO THE TERMINOLOGY

Technical cooperation assistance - comprises activities that aim to promote increasing self-reliance in the developing countries. It embraces activities aimed at human resources development (education, health, social development), and managerial, technical, administrative and research capabilities required to formulate and implement development plans and policies, including the management and development of appropriate institutions and enterprises. In the present document, all entities reviewed are engaged in technical cooperation activities.

Regular budget expenditures (RBE) - refers to technical cooperation expenditures of the executing and specialized agencies financed out of the assessed budgets (contributions).

Extrabudgetary expenditures (EBE) - refers to expenditures of the executing and specialized agencies financed from voluntary contributions. EBE originate from two sources. Multilateral sources, which are further subdivided into: (a) United Nations system other than UNDP central resources and administered funds and (b) multilateral sources outside of the United Nations system. The former includes expenditures incurred in developing countries by the agencies of the United Nations system themselves, including Governments and the World Bank. See tables 3, line B1, and 5 of the statistical tables. Multilateral sources outside of the United Nations system include regional development banks, the Commission of the European Communities, the various Arab development funds, etc. Expenditures from these sources are channelled through the agencies of the United Nations system for the financing of technical cooperation activities in developing countries. See tables 3, line B2, and 6 of the statistical tables. Bilateral sources, which are divided into: (a) expenditures channelled through the United Nations system and (b) unilateral self-supporting expenditures. The former comprises expenditures incurred against resources provided directly to the agency by a Member State or an NGO to fund technical cooperation activities in any member country. It also includes expenditures against "multi-bilateral" contributions (i.e., contribution by one country for a specific project(s) in another) as well as expenditures by the agency against special purpose funds managed by the agency itself. The term 'unilateral' is rather confusing; it is used to emphasize the fact that expenditures are used to finance technical cooperation activities within the country that made the 'contribution' to the United Nations system. The expenditure is thus passed from the given country to the United Nations system and back to the same country; the only difference is that it has acquired a dual character: unilateral since it returns to the contributing country, but because it is routed through the United Nations system it also acquires a bilateral character.

Extrabudgetary contributions - are contributions to fund the extrabudgetary expenditures of executing and specialized agencies. Such contributions come from two sources: (a) Multilateral contributions - contributions from non-bilateral entities and subdivided into: (i) contributions from the United Nations system - in essence, such contributions represent an internal transfer of resources in the United Nations system from (mainly) funding to executing agencies and (ii) contributions originating outside of the United Nations system - contributions by multilateral organizations that are not part of the United Nations system. Examples of these organizations are the African Development Bank and the Arab Gulf Fund for United Nations Development Organizations; and (b) bilateral contributions - broken down into: (i) contributions from countries/territories - representing funds donated to the United Nations system to support activities in developing countries; (ii) unilateral self-supporting contributions - contributions made by a country to finance technical cooperation activities in that country; and (iii) contributions from non-governmental organizations - contributions from these sources to the United Nations system.

a/ The sum total of this column is equal to B1 (minus UNFPA, UNICEF, WFP, the World BanK and IDA and UNDP)+B2+C1+C2 in table 3 or, alternatively, the sums of table 5 (minus UNFPA, UNICEF, WFP, the World Bank and IDA and UNDP) through table 7, plus "Self-supporting expenditures" from table 8. For a summary by agency and sectors of the total in this column, see table 3, for a breakdown by country, see table 8.
b/ This column represents UNICEF, WFP, the World Bank and IDA expenditures, for which the agency breakdowns were not available.
c/ Based on expenditures from IPFs, SPR, SMF/LDCs, SIS and cost-sharing.
d/ Includes DDSMS and DESIPA.
e/ UNFPA funded expenditures of $6.0 million to UNDP-administered fund of UNIFEM.
f/ Includes UNV expenditure of $10.1 million for 1996.
g/ Includes UNV, UNSO, UNCDF, UNIFEM, UNRFNRE and others.
h/ Comprises expenditures of $1.326 million (UNSO), $8.175 million (UNCDF), $9.293 million (UNIFEM), $0.611 million (UNRFNRE) and $10.904 million (others).
i/ Prior to 1997, expenditures from UNV were combined with UNDP.
j/ See "Note on the Data" at the beginning of the report for an explanation of WHO's expenditure.
k/ Comprises expenditures of $612,476 for DEVNET, $113,440 for IOM and $1,540 for NGOs.
l/ This amount represents GCCC, for which no agency breakdown is available.

Note to table 1:

To assist in the interpretation of table 1, it will be helpful to have in mind a picture of the flow of resources through the United Nations sytem. The specialized agencies use their own resources (from RBE and EBE) to fund the activities they execute. UNDP (central resources and administered funds) and UNFPA, on the other hand, channel a portion of their resources to the agencies that act as executing agencies for interventions funded by UNDP and UNFPA. Part of the resources of these two organizations also fund activities that they themselves execute. For example, the value of activities funded and executed in 1996 by UNDP itself amounted to $46.5 million. While the table indicates that UNICEF, WFP and the World Bank and IDA did not channel any of their expenditures to other entities of the United Nations system in 1996 and 1997, they may, in fact, have done so, but detailed breakdowns of the data are not available at this time.

Note that UNCED, UNEP, UNITAR, UNRWA did not report any UNDP-financed technical cooperation expenditures during 1996 as well as 1997. In addition, due to unforeseen difficulties, WMO was not in a position to provide data for the present report. The tables in the annex should be read with these caveat in mind. (See the annex, "Note on the Data".)

a/ The sum total of this column is equal to B1 (minus UNFPA, UNICEF, WFP, the World Bank and IDA and UNDP)+B2+C1+C2 in table 3. Alternatively, it is equal to the sums of table 5 (minus UNFPA, UNICEF, WFP, World Bank/IDA and UNDP) through table 7, plus "Self-supporting expenditures" from table 8. For a summary by agency and sectors of the total in this column, see table 3; for a breakdown by country, see table 8.

b/ Data covering IPFs, SPR, SMF/LDCs, SIS and cost-sharing, where applicable. The data for UNDP central resources includes UNV expenditures of $10.1 million for 1996 only. As of 1997, UNV expenditures have been reported separately.

c/ Details on sectoral breakdowns were not available for these amounts.

d/ This amount represents GCCC, for which no agency breakdown is available.

Note to table 2:

The sectoral data submitted by ESCWA for 1996-1997 employed two classification schemes: the ACC programme classification codes and the "Allotment Account Classification effected due to the Restructuring of the Secretariat of ESCWA" (covering letter of 16 March 1997 from ESCWA submitting data for 1996). For the purposes of comparability, the data for ESCWA were reclassified on the basis of the ACC sectoral codes.

b/ A - Regular budget
B1 - Funded by United Nations system multilateral sources plus UNFPA, UNICEF, WFP, the World Bank and IDA and UNDP (central resources and administered funds)
B2 - Non-United Nations system multilateral sources
C1 - Bilateral resources channelled through the United Nations system
C2 - Unilaterally financed "self-supporting" expenditures
c/ Sectoral breakdowns were not available for amounts under "Others", especially for UNICEF, the World Bank and IDA.
d/ Includes DDSMS, DESIPA and UNOPS.
e/ UNFPA funded expenditures of $6,000 in the Population sector (11) to UNDP-administered fund for UNIFEM.
f/ The data provided by UNESCO under "Regular budget (category "A")" represent expenditures incurred under that organization's participation programme.
g/ Including support costs.

Note to table 3

This is an overall summary table of technical cooperation expenditures of the United Nations system. The left-hand column (labelled "Executing agency") shows the distribution of technical cooperation expenditure by budget source (A, B1, B2, C1 and C2) for the given entity. The sectoral amounts (the numbers from 1 through 21 in the header of the table represent sector, see the left-hand column of table 2 for complete sector names) corresponding to each agency and budget source can be located quickly by plotting the appropriate grid. For example, all expenditures by IMO were in sector 8 (transport).

Note further that "A" corresponds to the "Funded by regular budgets" column of tables 1 and 2, while B1+B2+C1+C2 correspond to the "Funded by extrabudgetary sources other than UNDP, UNFPA and UNDP-administered funds" column of tables 1 and 2 plus UNFPA, UNICEF, WFP, the World Bank and IDA and UNDP (central resources and administered funds). For a more detailed breakdown of each budget source, see tables 4 through 7, and the "Self-supporting expenditures" column of table 8. See notes at the end of these tables for further explanation.

Since total B1 of this table comprises agency expenditures funded from other multilateral sources plus UNFPA, UNICEF, WFP, the World Bank and IDA and UNDP (central resources and administered funds), then agency B1 expenditure is equal to total B1 in this table minus UNFPA, UNICEF, WFP, the World Bank and IDA and UNDP (central resources and administered funds). Total agency multilateral expenditure is then equal to B2+[B1 minus UNFPA, UNICEF, WFP, the World Bank and IDA, UNDP (central resources and administered funds)]. Total multilateral expenditure from United Nations system sources, including agency multilateral expenditures, is equal to B1+B2 in this table.
